The Orchestra Barroca of Barcelona created in 2010 and made up mainly of musicians established in Catalonia has the aim of disseminating and making known the music of the 17th and 18th centuries.

In the first part of the show on September 2, the Orchestra will perform the most brilliant countertenor arias of the baroque repertoire, with the musical direction and the soloist violinist Joan Espina, and Oriol Rosés as countertenor. In the second part, the Barcelona Baroque Orchestra will offer a penetrating journey through instrumental and vocal music, lights, colours, and fragrances, which will transport you to a dreamlike space. It is about a multisensory show, both a unique scene in which the perfumes will mark the beat of the four seasons of the great composer Antonio Vivaldi.

In particular, you will have four fragrances, one for each season of the year, created by the Catalan company Eurofragance and their perfumer Soizic Beaucourt. Founded in 1990 by Santiago Sabatés, Eurofragance has become the leading Spanish company in the fragrance and perfumery industry in just over thirty years. The company that designs and produces fragrances for international brands is commercially present in tens of countries, has four creative centers and three factories in the world. Born in Paris, Soizic Beaucourt began his journey to the perfumery industry in 2003 when he began his studies at the renowned ISIPCA school (Institut Supérieur International du Parfum, de la Cosmétique et de l'Aromatique Alimentaire). Since 2010 he is a perfumer at the Eurofragance house. In addition to being a perfumer, he has played the violin for four years and is a member of the International Camerata of Barcelona.
